ABOUT CROATIA

The world you may have believed to be a thing of the past you will find right here. It is a world of beauty, of unspoiled nature, of the charm of town squares, of the taste of wholesome Mediterranean cuisine – where you will be able to combine business with pleasure.

...experience genuine, untarnished beauty...
...the blue, the green and the white...

We extend this invitation and are pleased to welcome you to Croatia

Zagreb, the capital of Croatia, is situated in the heart of Europe. It has excellent transport links via air, road and train.

Zagreb is both old and youthful. Two in one, the present resides within the past which has been written for over 9 centuries and can be found inside museums, in historical monuments and along city streets.

Zagreb is a city wreathed with an abundance of green parks. Along narrow spaces of pedestrian walkways there are many cultural and art institutions, a fine blend of the modern and traditional.

Zagreb is Europe's biggest outdoor café, always hospitable and open-hearted!

Zagreb has sports and recreational areas, parks, promenades, open air festivals and one of the best-preserved garden produce markets in Europe.

Zagreb has exclusive hotels and congress centres, period buildings, theatres, museums, restaurants and nearby getaways.

Zagreb has proven to be a great host to many international congresses, corporate meetings, cultural and sporting events, and a place where true professionalism is combined with an honest and open heart.

Zagreb has been the foundation from which many excellent scientists and artists have ventured out into the world; it is also the birth place of some of the world's most important heritage items like the cravat (necktie) and ballpoint pen, both of which have become traditional symbols associated with the business world.

Zagreb is the starting-point of many memorable travels and memories. Its green surroundings and its fantastic connection to the scenic Adriatic coastline, by both air and highway are close by and await you.

Zagreb
has a heart,
and you...
you have Zagreb.

EASY TO GET TO

Zagreb, the capital of Croatia, is a Central European city that has excellent air, road and train connections to other European and non-European cities.

For instance, it is only

390 km away from Vienna

576 km
from Munich

380 km
from Budapest

and 420 km
from Venice.

For those who live in some other, more distant metropolitan cities, it is best to arrive by plane. The city center is only 17 km away from a well-equipped and modern airport which is connected to numerous European cities such as Paris, London, Rome, Zurich, Vienna, Moscow, Prague... and it is through these cities that you are linked to the entire world.

When travelling from any European city, you arrive in Zagreb in less than two hours.

In association with the country's national airline, Croatia Airlines, there are many other regular flights that include foreign airlines and numerous low-cost carriers.

Over the past few years, Croatia has constructed a web of new, state of the art, modern motorways and if you are coming to Zagreb via Italy, Austria, Slovenia or Hungary, you will arrive quickly and safely. Thanks to this update in the road system, the Croatian capital is 2-2.5 hours away from the Adriatic Sea and other parts of the country, making the area most convenient for pre and post-touring arrangements.

Top attractions in Croatia's capital city

Most Iconic Place

Saint Mark's Church, located aptly in Saint Mark's Square, is easily Zagreb's most recognizable attraction. The 13th century church displays the medieval coat of arms of Croatia, Dalmatia, and Slavonia on the left side of the roof. On the right side, there is the emblem of Zagreb. The Saint Mark's Church is located in the city's Upper Town, or Old Town.

Historic Site

The Zagreb Cathedral, one of the city's more prominent sights, is a Roman Catholic church that survived an earthquake yet still stands proudly in the city, always ready to show off to visitors. One can view it from the outside - its spires are visible from almost anywhere in the city - or step inside to explore the ornate, decor. The Zagreb Cathedral is still in use today.

Lotrščak Tower

Among many Zagreb sites located in the Upper Town, one should mention the medieval Lotrščak Tower erected in the 13th century at the south entrance to the former Gradec. One of the landmarks of Zagreb, the Tower is the best-preserved part of the former city fortification. Each day, the full functioning cannon on the top of the tower fires off to mark the noon!

Tkalčićeva street

Tkalčićeva street in Zagreb, lovingly referred to as Tkalča, developed between the two oldest Zagreb neighbourhoods, Kaptol and Gradec, at the place of the former stream surrounded by mills and arched by bridges, the most famous one being the legendary Bloody Bridge. The street is brimming with local cafes, bars, and local artists. Events are constantly taking place there and the scene is thriving and expanding by the day.

Ilica Street

Ilica is the most famous street in Zagreb and a favourite place for shopping due to a number of prestigious clothes and shoe stores.

Croatian National Theatre

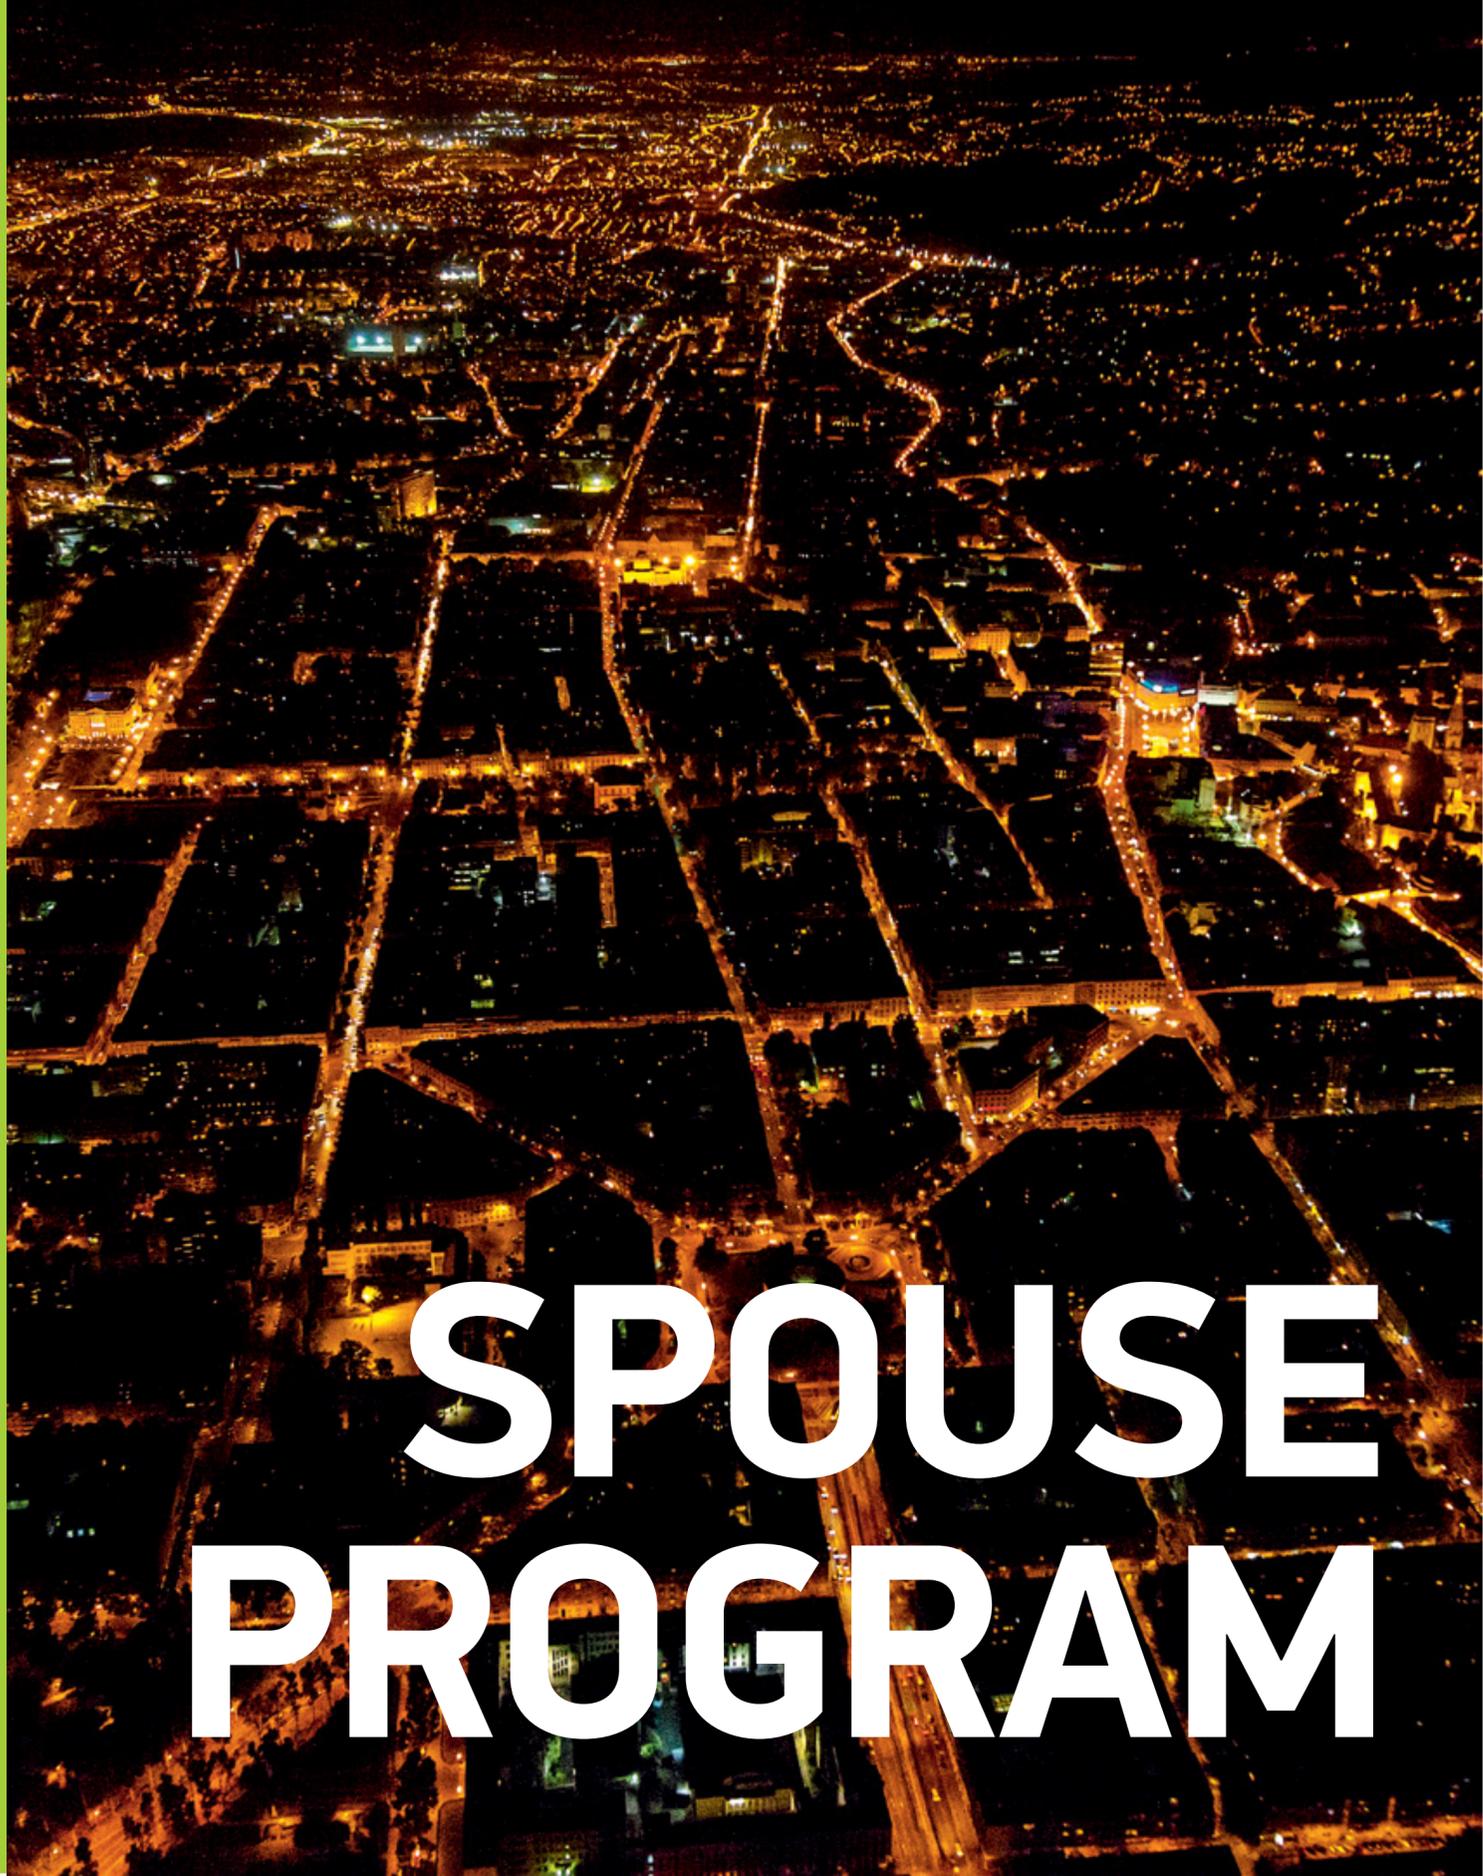

Built in 1895, this famous baroque building is the Croatian National Theatre. It is surrounded by many buildings of high architectural value, which represent the late 19th and early 20th century architecture. The repertoire of the Croatian National Theatre in Zagreb boasts a rich and diverse offer.

Cultural Experience

The Dolac Market is a farmer's market located in the Upper Town (Old Town) of Zagreb. At the market, there is an abundance of local farmers and distributors selling local fruits and vegetables. This is a prime time to learn more about the fresh produce the region has to offer and the work that goes into getting these products to hungry consumers. Croatia is the supplier for a large number of organic produce offerings in the European Union and that plays into its agricultural stance and importance.

Zagreb and its surroundings are the endless source of myths and legends that are ideal for writing an imaginative movie script.

When in Zagreb, everything is close to you!

On the Banks of River Sava

A great value to modern Zagreb is certainly Jarun, the so called ‘Zagreb’s sea’. This large recreational and sports center, situated on the left bank of the river Sava is in the immediate proximity of the metropolis. There are 2 lakes and 5 islets interconnected by bridges and 2,500 pebble beaches and the impressive 2,250 metres long regatta lane upon which numerous international and world championships are organized.

The Green Necklace

Zagreb surroundings is a beautiful and interesting area, rich in historical monuments and a great place for recreation and gastronomy. A favorite spot is the town of Samobor; known for its beauty, wine region as well as for a famous and tasty cake called samoborske kremšnite.

Near Krapina, human findings dating from the Paleolithic period can be seen. To the north, there are numerous protected monuments of culture; churches, castles and manors built in the period from the 16th to 18th century. Among the most famous are the beautiful Miljana, Veliki Tabor and Trakošćan.
